SBH Solutions To the rescue in the Barents Sea !

SBH Solutions is used to supplying its heating and container products to countries around the world. However, a recent fulfilled request is a great example of how far it is possible to reach in our globalised world.

Halliburton Norway had a problem. A cold snap had its supply services on oil rigs in the isolated northerly Barents Sea reeling. It desperately needed some hazardous area IBC heating jackets. Searching the web, requests for quotations were sent to companies around the world. SBH Solutions replied quickly within its standard of customer response time.

Despite many closer suppliers having a chance, it was SBH Solutions which won the work. Using the UK factory, Halliburton was supplied in quick time and the panic was over.

If you need heating quickly, we are here to try to solve your problems.
